Member News

Janice Mason is exhibiting her artwork at the Center from September 3 through September 23. She has been painting for 36 years and has been teaching fine art to children and adults for the past 21 years. She works in pastel, oil, watercolor and colored pencil. Janice has been an integral part of the Center for the Arts and continues to teach here. This exhibition is being held in honor of Janice's 70th birthday! We here at the Center, as well as her husband, Bert, and her daughter, Mandy, wish her a very happy birthday and many more years filled with the love of art that she has generously shared with all of us!

Ellen Barnett will be having a solo show for the month of November. Ellen is a mixed media artist. She was a member of "The Circle of Life Mixed Media Artists" that evolved from a Printmaking course she taught here at the Center for the Arts. She also taught Oil Painting and Collage here in Marlton. Ellen has a BA in Fine Arts from Rutgers University and a Master of Fine Arts from the University of the Arts in Philadelphia. This exhibition will be a comprehensive exhibition of both past and present work.

John A. Benigno's photography is on exhibit at the art gallery at St. David's Episcopal Church, in Wayne, PA. The gallery hours are Monday through Friday, from 10 am to 5 pm. The opening reception is Friday, September 6 from 6 to 8 pm. The show runs until September 29. An example of John's photography is At right. Learn more about John at <http://www.photographicimages.us>

Dolores Cohen watercolor, "The Good China", was selected to grace the September cover of the Watchdog Magazine, which serves the Leisuretown community in Southampton, NJ.

Richard Hoffman exhibited 10 paintings at Perkins Arts Center in Collingswood this summer. He received 4th Place at Smithville Annex Gallery Juried Show and sold the painting. Richard also received 3rd Place at Tinicum Arts Festival, and the Purchase Award at Trenton Museum Ellarslie's Open Juried Show for "Indoor Winter Escape". The watercolor painting is now part of their collection.

Jan Narducci - South Jersey Camera Club (Juried Photography Exhibit Sponsor) meets twice a month. For more information go to www.sjcameraclub.org

Sandy Jones will be giving a Tempura Resist demonstration at the September 10th meeting for Pine Shores Art Association. She will also give a one-day workshop on Thursday, October 4, from 9:30 to 3:30. Pine Shores is located at 94 Stafford Ave. in Manahawking, NJ. For more info or to register go to www.pineshoresartassociation.org. Sandy will also be exhibiting at the Rittenhouse Art Show, along with Maureen Gass Brown, on September 14, 15 and 16.

Joe Perno will be having a photography show at the Ritz Theater in Haddon Township from September 12 - through October 21. It will be located in the Gallery at the Theater. Joe's photography covers a wide variety of subjects including nature scenes, old buildings and interesting architecture, as well as portraits. You can learn more about Joe at fineartsamerica.com/profiles/joseph-perno. Below are two of his photographs. One of his photographs, "Late Afternoon Shadows", is at right.

Catherine Kuzma's painting Open Waters received Best of Show at the Manayunk Art Center's 11th Annual Juried Exhibition this past July through August. Her painting was exhibited at the American Impressionist Society's Small Works Showcase in Michigan through August. Her solo show at the Manayunk Art Center this past August will be transferred to the RoxArt Gallery, 6120 Ridge Ave, in Philadelphia and can be viewed through September. Her painting Relentless will be exhibited September 15 - October, 13 at the Camden Fireworks Gallery's A New Berth: Juried Exhibition in partnership with Camden Shipyard and Maritime Museum. Her painting Crossing Over will be included in Philadelphia Stories 15th Anniversary Art Exhibition at the Cheltenham Center for the Arts in Philadelphia from November 13 - December 6, 2019.

Peter Scott was awarded Best in Show at the Flinker Gallery, Virtua Hospital, Mt. Holly for "Full Circle", his photograph of a dozen canoes docked in a circle floating on amazingly clear water (see image at right). He also won Honorable Mention at Flinker for his entry at G. Bly Memorial exhibit with "Silent and Alone", a white bird pictured against a soft black background.

Carol Taylor-Kearney will be exhibiting at Cerulean Arts Collective from September 18 - October 13. The opening reception will be on Saturday, September 21, from 2 - 5 pm. Carol Taylor-Kearney is a life-long resident of southern New Jersey where she collects objects and ideas for her reverse glass paintings on windows, doors, and frames; for her work on canvas and wood, and for her installations. A graduate of Rowan University in Glassboro, NJ (BA Art Education) and the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts in Philadelphia (MFA Painting), she has exhibited her work nationally; and her work is part of several corporate, public, and private collections. Cerulean Arts is located at 1355 Ridge Ave., in Philadelphia.

We are sad to announce the passing of Dorothy Goldman, of Manahawkin, NJ. Dorothy passed away on Wednesday, August 21. Dorothy got into art after she retired from a 30-year career in Human Services. She was a student of Chinese watercolor here at the Center and won numerous awards for her artwork. She will be greatly missed by the South Jersey art community.
